

PUBLIC BRIEFING – PE HARBOUR UPDATE

What happens when the tank farm and manganese ore facility finally move from the PE harbour?
They are to be decommissioned in the next few years and there is much speculation about future land use, while recent media reports have highlighted the potential for a waterfront development.

Find out what the future could hold, and how to get there -

Derick van der Merwe, ex-CEO of the Cape Town Waterfront Company, will speak on that development, its benefits, and how it all came about.

After a successful public briefing in May, we agreed to keep residents of our city up-to-date with the process. This meeting is an opportunity to be inspired, ask questions and put your suggestions forward.
